

There is something so interesting in new surroundings. Hearing strangers - seeing how they act, noticing their manner of speaking etc etc.

Oh I loved my Boarding School days and I'd give a lot to live them over again.

I made such dear friends who have been so faithful and so sincere all down the years.

I know you're busy and so you can realize how busy I am.

Aside from Teaching I'm taking two university courses.